Foodpanda Bangladesh: Sentiment & Quality Teardown (Nov 2022 to Nov 2023)

Reviews analyzed
334K

Average rating (1 to 5)
2.82

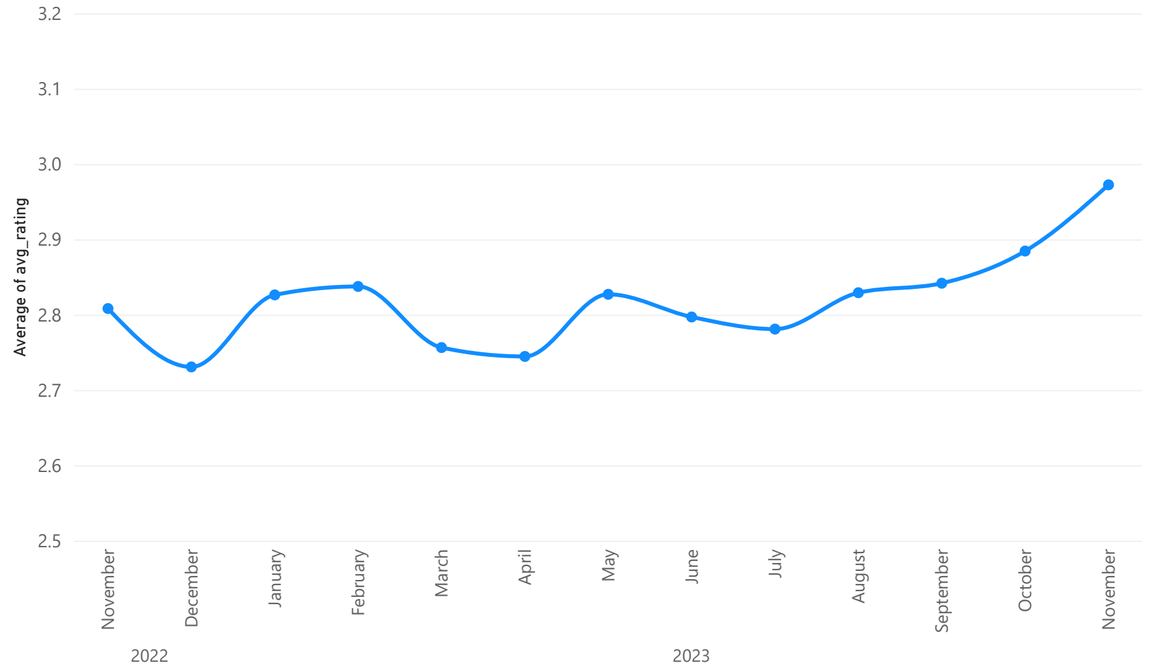

Quality + portion complaints
40.7K

Primary Drivers of Negative Reviews

"Other" (mostly Banglish or unusual wording) and "Generic" (no reason given) could not be classified, so they are set aside. Among the 82,501 reviews with a named problem, taste or quality (20,426) and small quantity (20,235) are the largest, together about half (49%).

Monthly Rating Trend 2022–2023

The average rating stayed between 2.73 (Dec 2022) and 2.88 (Oct 2023), so low ratings are a constant problem, not a recent one. The rise to 2.97 in Nov 2023 is a partial month (11,900 reviews) and should not be read as a trend. Monthly review volume grew from about 14.8k to over 38k.

Public customer reviews from Nov 2022 to Nov 2023, so findings describe that period and may not reflect Foodpanda today. Themes come from keyword matching, so figures are approximate, and each review is counted once under its main theme. Source: BDFoodSent dataset (BRAC University), described by its authors as collected from Foodpanda Bangladesh.

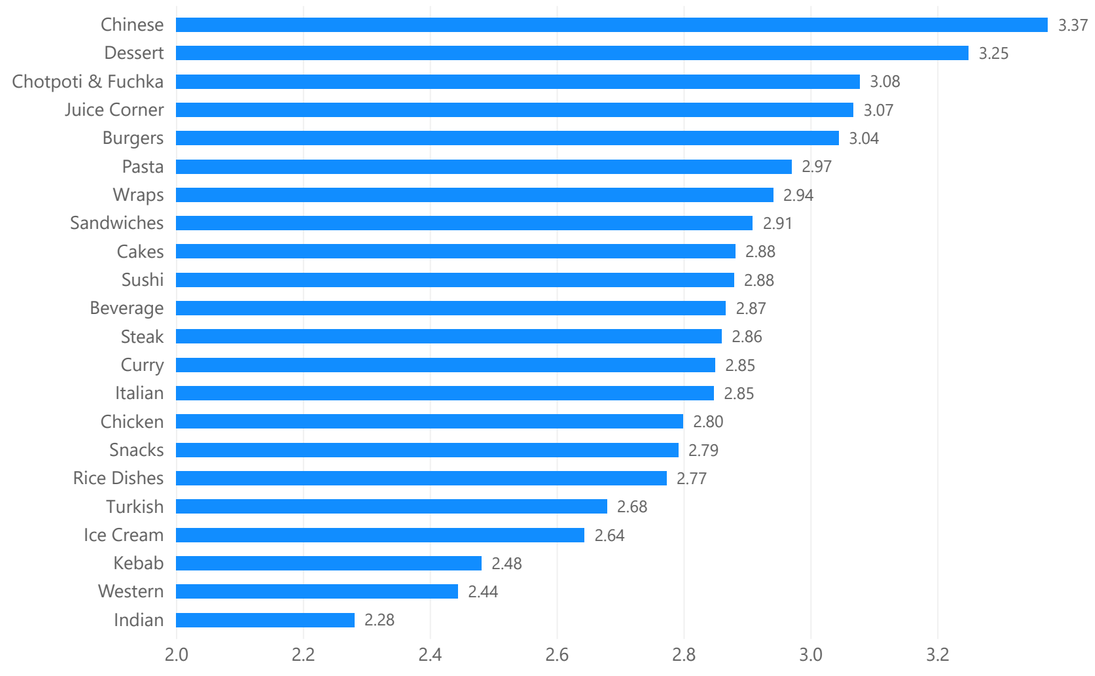

Cuisine & Operational Breakdown

Highest rated (1,000+ reviews)
Chinese

Lowest rated(1,000+ reviews)
Indian

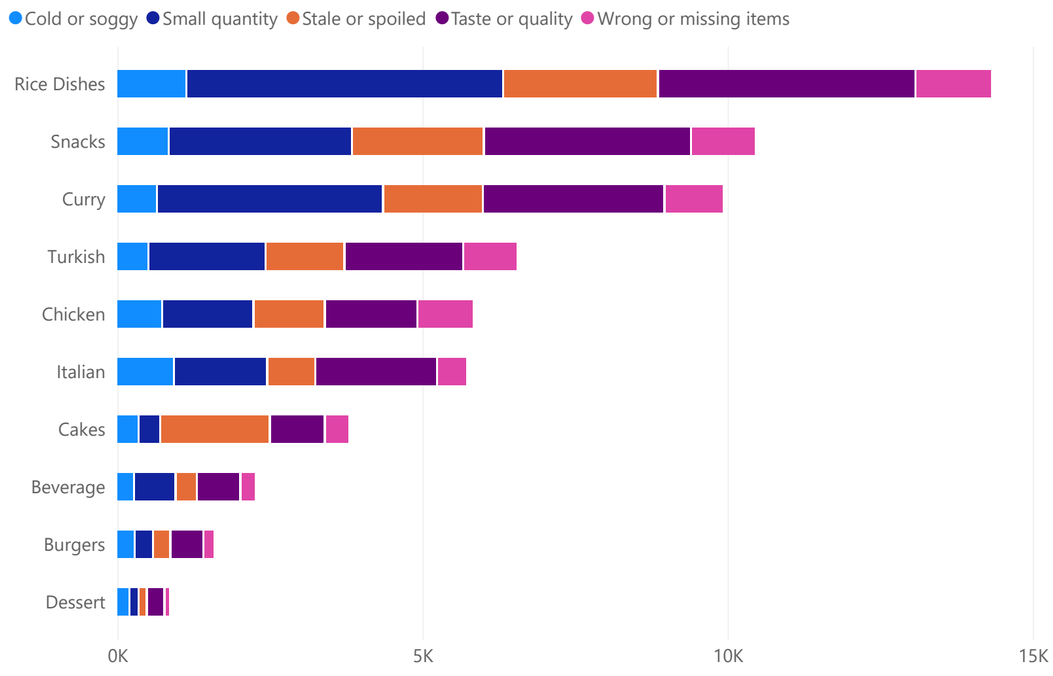

Most complaints (largest cuisine)
Rice Dishes

Average Rating by Cuisine Type

Indian (2.28), Western (2.44) and Kebab (2.48) are rated lowest. Chinese (3.37), Dessert (3.25) and Chotpoti & Fuchka (3.08) are rated highest. Only cuisines with 1,000+ reviews are shown; fewer reviews means less reliable. Hover over a bar to see the review count.

Top 5 named problems by cuisine

Small quantity is the top-named complaint for Rice Dishes and Curry; taste or quality leads for Snacks. Top 5 problems, 10 largest cuisines. Each review counted once; keyword-based, so approximate.